Donation

We would like to thank Gord Cudmore for the donation of his much anticipated new book The Mystery of Hearsay. We heard it was a good book but you would have to ask the person who has already borrowed and read it.

The Annual Library Christmas Party!

This is an event we know many of you will want to mark in your planners (we do get asked when we are holding it). Yes, it's the Social Event of the Season and you won't want to miss it. As always, your library staff will be slaving over hot stoves throughout the weekend before so that you can enjoy delicious homemade goodies and freshly brewed coffee all day on Monday, December 14, 2009. Please stop by anytime that day.

Our Annual Plea

That title is a play on words about two very popular items that were recently discovered missing from our collection.

The members of our family bar rely on the excellent Annual Review of Family Law volumes by our own Alf Mamo and the late Jay McLeod. Someone appears to be relying on some of the volumes a bit too much right now though. We are particularly concerned about the absence of the most recent edition from 2008 but we are also missing the 2003 and 2004 volumes. Please check your office and see if perhaps you mistakenly took one of these without signing it out. Your colleagues in the family bar would appreciate their return, especially the 2008 copy.

We are also pleading with you to return How do you plead?: Breaking the bonds of boilerplate-precedents. This is a very old set of precedents that the LSUC published as a CLE seminar in 1994 but they are still heavily used by our members. However, someone has "borrowed" the volume covering precedents that range alphabetically from Motor Vehicle Accident-Social Host to Wrongful Dismissal Actions. Please return it as soon as possible.

Criminal Lawyers – Lunch and Learn

This is not a reference to the book "borrowers" above but rather to our lawyers practicing criminal law. We will be holding another training session on Canada Law Book's online service, Criminal Spectrum on Wednesday, January 20th. Teresa Verhoeven, trainer for Canada Law Book, will be here that day to instruct the criminal bar on how to search this valuable online resource. The product is available free of charge through the LibraryCo Toolkit of Legal Resources on all the library computers. The session will run from 1:00 – 2:30 in the lawyers' lounge and lunch will be provided by Canada Law Book. Registration is required.
